Fire, Security and Life Safety Products

-- Consulting-Specifying Engineer, 4/5/2007 7:06:00 AM

Video management system has been upgraded to include new features such as multiple server consolidation, IP distributed architecture, remote administration, multiple display support, support for mega-pixel cameras, pre-motion recording and choice of video compression, among other features. The system integrates with existing closed circuit television as well as third-party transaction systems. The model is able to handle as many as hundreds of cameras on multiple DVRs and NVRs. Multiple systems are consolidated to a single solution for viewing, querying and configuration purposes. For more about the VIP X by Stanley Security Products, click here
