SIA Appoints 2004-2005 Board of Directors

Dec 16, 2004, ALEXANDRIA, Va. -- The Security Industry Association (SIA) has ushered in four new directors to its board: Justin Boswell of Stanley Security Solutions, Bill Newill of SecuraKey, Debra Spitler of OmniKey and Rob Zivney of Hirsch.

"As the security industry continues to evolve, participation in the Security Industry Association and with the Board of Directors provides a unique opportunity to 'see the big picture' and provide guidance that will assist our members in effectively working within a changing industry," says Spitler.

SIA Executive Director Richard Chace adds, "We rely on our directors to guide our programs and services and look to their knowledge and experience base to assist us in meeting the needs of our members now and in the years to come."
