

Web-only Edition | Dec. 23, 2004 - Jan. 8, 2005

People in the News

Walter Coady joined Amag Technology as its new mid-Atlantic regional sales manager. Previously, Coady worked at Software House as mid-Atlantic area sales manager. Other professional experiences include stints at ISR Solutions in Washington D.C. and Omega/Securitas in Northern California.

Bluebridge Systems appointed Thomas Lang as its new president. Lang's professional experiences include co-founding and serving as chairman of Toddlerwatch.com as well as chief executive officer at RemoteView Communications.

ECSI International named Robert Robinson as its new corporate account manager. Robinson's professional experiences include working in sales and marketing positions at Staubil Corp., Honeywell and Westinghouse.

Ladd Nelson joined Indala Corp. as its new sales manager for the western region of the United States, including western Canada. Previously, Nelson worked at GCS as national sales manager and Amag Technology as director of new products.

Javier Macias joined Nortronics Corp. as its new chief technical officer. Macias previously worked at On-Net Surveillance Systems and before that at Enterasys Networks. He reports to Maria Gonzalez, executive vice-president and president-elect at the company.

OCS Security announced the appointment of Michael McCann as the head of its newly formed executive protection and technical services division. McCann is the former chief of security at the United Nations.

The Protection Bureau promoted Wes Constabel to director of engineering. During his career at the security systems integrator, Constabel has served in positions such as project manager and installation technician.

Rand Price has been named the new associate executive director of the Security Industry Association. Price joins SIA from SmithBucklin Corp., where he was based at the Chicago-based firm's Washington D.C. office. Previously, he worked at the Academy of Managed Care Pharmacy as director of education. SIA also announced the addition of Justin Boswell, president of Stanley Security Solutions, to its 2005 board of directors.

The Security Industry Alarm Coalition appointed Dave Simon as the chairman of its public relations committee. Simon works at Brinks Home Security as senior manager of industry and public relations. He succeeds David Gottlieb from Honeywell Security, who will continue to serve on the committee.