3 40H Mortise Lock by Best Access Systems

The 40H mortise lock addresses the complex specification, order placement, and lock installation process that characterizes mortise lock systems. While the ability to change the lock configuration easily to a particular handing does provide a more efficient and simplified door installation process, it is the universal case design of the 40H that provides a new level of flexibility, strength, and durability.

The universal case design of the 40H provides the ability to reconfigure a lock into many different functions easily and quickly, often by rearranging existing component parts without disassembling the lock case. The efficiency of the design enables over 15 of the most commonly used lock functions to be included in three case configurations.
